POWDER MILL BLOWN UP

The Plant at Rompton, New Jersey, Exploded Yesterday.

THE KILLED NUMBER EIGHT MEN

Various Theories as to the Cause of the Disaster, But the Likelihood Is That It Was the Result of An Accident.

THERE WERE TWO EXPLOSIONS

NEW YORK, July 13.—Two explosions which killed eight men, wounded about twenty others and wrecked two buildings, occurred at the plant of the Laflin-Rand powder works at Rompton, N. J., yesterday morning. The first explosion was in the house where gun cotton was being made and the second, presumably superinduced by concussion, was in the drying house close by. Three men were in the mixing room when the explosion occurred and they were blown to atoms.

Chief Engineer Craig, who was in the engine room, had his head crushed to a jelly in the wreckage of the boiler house, the side of which was blown out. John Philips was standing near a tree some distance from the mixing house. His head was blown from his body and was picked up eighty feet away. His body was frightfully torn by the force of the explosion and his clothes were whipped from his body. The foreman of the drying room was also blown to pieces and a number of Italians who were digging a trench in the rear of the building, were killed.

The most seriously injured was William H. Emmons, a private of Company I, Third New Jersey volunteers. He was horribly torn by flying splinters. On one side of his head the scalp was torn away and from the other his ear was severed. Splinters were driven into his body and legs, and it is not likely that he will recover. Charles Lukes, of Butler, was also probably fatally injured, being cut and torn in many places.

The first explosion was at about half-past 10 o'clock. Before the noise and roar of it died away there was a second, louder and more terrific than the first. The roar was heard for miles and the concussion broke windows in all directions. The explosion was followed by a fire which threatened to spread to the other buildings of the plant in which tons of the highest explosives were stored.

Five companies of the Third New Jersey volunteers have been stationed at the plant since the war with Spain began, and they were ordered under arms and went to the scene of the explosion at double quick time. Within ten minutes the soldiers had formed a cordon about the wrecked buildings and entire works, and soon the firemen were at work trying to quench the flames.

Almost immediately after the explosion the anxious relatives of the men working at the mill congregated near the scene. The soldiers tried every means of keeping the crowd back, telling them of the danger of further explosions and the impossibility of their passing the line. Women, frantic with anxiety, tried to rush through and the soldiers were compelled to fix bayonets to hold the crowd back. As the injured came through the line of soldiers the scenes of excitement were redoubled. Every one of the workingmen who came out was at once surrounded and begged for word of those who had been left behind, many of whom are still missing.

The fire was soon under control and finally quenched The search for other dead and missing was immediately begun and will be prosecuted diligently. During the fire two magazines, which each contained a ton of nitro-glycerine, were in constant danger of being exploded by flying sparks.

The Laflin-Rand company has been engaged in the manufacture of brown powder, nitro-glycerine, gun cotton and smokeless powder, under contract to the government. The loss to the company is great, but a reconstruction of the wrecked works will begin at daylight to-day and the plant will be in full running order in two weeks. After the explosion there was talk of a Spanish spy being implicated in an attempt to destroy the powder mill, but the theory of the men connected with the works is that a grain of gravel got into some powder which was in process of handling in the mixing room and that as it went through the machinery the foreign substance came in contact with a metal surface and threw out a spark which ignited the explosive.

Address of the Society of Friends of Great Britai .

To all lovers of Peace in the United States of America :

More than two centuries ago William Penn, who was so manifestly used in uniting your country and ours by links more lasting than any forged in the furnace of war, wrote from this land to his fellow-colonists in Pennsylvania as follows :—

"Friends:—The eyes of many are upon you, the people of many nations of Europe look on your country as a land of ease and quiet, and wish to themselves in the same blessings which they conceive you enjoy."

These words still apply in large measure, but over the clear sky of your civil life has arisen the dark cloud of the war with Spain.

We desire at this season of stress and strain to associate ourselves in close sympathy and fraternal greeting with all who take their stand under the banner of the Prince of Peace, and who endeavour according to their ability to save your great nation from the demoralizing influence of the war spirit.

You love your country; your constitution recognizes the equal rights of humanity; you, with us, acknowledge the supremacy of the King of Kings, and desire to see the kingdom of Christ established in the earth. In our own land we have known full well trials and difficulties which arise when the claims of conscience and the claims of country appear at some testing season to clash. At the time the pain and perplexity may be great; in the end they must disappear before those who are intent upon seeking the truth with their faces to the light.

We desire that you, as individuals, may be strengthened with the might which comes from above, and the wisdom which is first pure then peaceable, in your efforts to spread the glad tidings of peace on earth and good will to men. The prophet, in looking forward to the coming of Messiah, heralded a time when "a man should be as a hiding place from the wind, a covert from the tempest." May it be your privilege to stand firm against the storms of passion too often loosed by war; to arrest the drift of opinion around you whenever it may set in unworthy directions, or towards unworthy purposes; and to nurture into stronger growth the desire to establish amity amongst all peoples.

We thankfully recognize the efforts you have made for the preservation of peace, and for the redress of wrongs by other means than those of war. We note also, that in her quarrel with Spain, your country has been moved by the claims of the suffering Cubans rather than by any greed of conquest. But it has ever been, and it remains true today, that appeal to sword is the abandonment of reason, and that under its sway the innocent suffer far more than the guilty.

As citizens of Great Britain we indeed are in no position to address your nation on the evils of war. We acknowledge with humiliation that this nation has sinned over and over again in relying upon might rather than right for the accomplishment of its purposes, but as we have urged upon our government that there are better ways of settling disputes than the barbarous methods of trial by battle, so with confidence we desire your encouragement in the appeals which you also may make.

Mad rivalry over armaments in Europe is impoverishing and embittering the peoples, and spreading jealousy and distrust among nations. Under it the moral forces which can alone bring health and strength to communities are arrested, and seem to be endangered. Our late revered fellow-member, John Bright, once pointed out, as to the striking contrast to the oppression engendered by the armaments of the Old World, "the grand experiment" presented by the United States of America, where he beheld many millions of men "happy and prosperous without great armies and great navies, without great debt and without great taxes." We long, not only for your sakes, but for the sake of our common humanity, that such a grand spirit may not be abandoned; but that, on the contrary, it may be carried forward with ever increasing courage and faith.

We earnestly desire that the ties of kinship and mutual good will between your people and ours may grow and strengthen : that the two nations may mutually agree to refer any disputes arising hereafter between them to the decision of some carefully appointed judicial tribunal : and that by so doing they may together lead the way for the permanent establishment of a system providing for appeals to justice in the place of appeals to force amongst the nations of the earth.

It is our earnest prayer that by the generous restraint of conscious strength there may be in your great country a readiness to end the present conflict, thus evincing to the world the forbearance of your nation, the earnestness and sincerity of your continued desires for the promotion of peace.

May you ever derive strength and encouragement from the thought that those who stand for righteousness are on the side of God, and He cannot fail.

Bitten by a Snake.

Ross Lamkin, of Williamsport, and a number of companions are camping near Montoursville. Sunday evening Mr. Lamkin was walking to the city, and while passing through a clump of bushes felt a pricking sensation in his arm. Looking down he saw a large dark colored snake fall to the ground. Mr. Lamkin applied the wound to his mouth and sucked as much poison out of the wound as he possibly could. As soon thereafter as he could he summoned a physician, who cauterized the snakebite. The young man was seized with convulsions and for several hours he was in a serious condition.

Found A Hermit's Gold.

August N. Lorrian, the hermit of Bakerstown, was found dead in his yard at that place July 6. Although he was supposed to be very poor $376 was found buried beneath the floor of his shanty. With it was the deed for his house and 2 acres of ground and some other papers.

Lorrain had lived at Bakerstown for a number of years. He worked for the farmers and they gave him plenty to eat. Recently he became afflicted with dropsy. Kind neighbors brought him food. If it disagreed with him he declared it had been poisoned. Deputy Coroner Mark Donley held an inquest yesterday. He discovered a trap door in the floor of his shanty. Under it he found $376 in gold, silver and bills. The valuables were brought to the city and will be kept for the present until an administrator is appointed.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Pleased With the Food.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 13.—The Spanish captives who were landed on Seaver's Island have made themselves at home and most of them spent the day in playing cards or other favorite games. The men have good appetites and have apparently become contented. The food being supplied them is of the best quality. Two of the cooks of the Cristobal Colon have been detailed to assist the twelve Americans in this work and the seamen have a much better prospect for good living than they have had in a long time.

The sick among the Spaniards have been placed in the two hospitals at the island. It has been found necessary to provide additional quarters for the accommodation of all who are on the sick list. Admiral Cervera is still on the cruiser St. Louis and is reported as feeling much improved.

Hip Pockets Unlawful.

South Carolina's latest plan for reducing the number of homicides is a bill recently introducing in the legislature which makes it unlawful to have a hip pocket in the rear of the trousers or coat. Provisions, however, is made for persons who may be permitted for good reason to carry a gun. They are granted a license, but must also wear conspicuously a metal badge which bears this legend, "I carry my gun concealed."

THE CRISIS HANGS FIRE !

While the Sagasta Ministry Has Resigned It Can't Let Go,

NO BACK FOR THE BURDEN

Sagasta Will Probably Be Compelled to Continue to Bear It and Open Peace Negotiations.

THE CIVIC POPULATION FOR PEACE

LONDON, July 13.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says:

"The crisis hangs fire. The ministers' still meet in council and the difficulties of retirement seem even greater than the difficulties of remaining in office. The conservatives are not prepared to accept office, and it is hard to imagine a Liberal cabinet without an undisputed Liberal leader. The logical conclusion is that Senor Sagasta must accept the responsibility of deciding whether or not to open peace negotiations."

PARIS, July 12.—A dispatch from the correspondent of the Temps at Madrid, published this afternoon, says:

"It is rumored that the ministers have handed their resignations to Senor Sagasta, who has accepted them, and who, with the queen regent's sanction, will form a new cabinet, with Senors Gamazo, Navarre, Rodrigo, Almodovar de Rio, Montero, Rias and Gen. Chinchilla, Marshal Martinez de Campos being made captain-general of Madrid."

MADRID, July 12.—All the Spanish ministers have handed their resignations to the premier, Senor Sagasta, who has explained the situation to the queen regent. But the difficulty is that nobody is willing to accept the premiership. Marshal Martinez de Campos would accept it, but he does not command a majority in the chamber of deputies.

While the military party urges war, a large proportion of the civil population is desirous of peace. It is pointed out, however, that if the United States insists upon the cession of Porto Rico and the Philippine islands the general feeling will be in favor of a continuation of hostilities, many Spaniards believing that the situation in Cuba will enable Spain to prolong the struggle for a long time.

The government issued to-day a loan of 500,000,000 pesetas in treasury bonds at 5 per cent, of which amount the Bank of Spain takes 300,000,000 pesetas.

MADRID, July 12.—After the cabinet council the ministers asserted that Santiago de Cuba had again refused the American demand for surrender.

Duke Almodovar de Rio, minister of foreign affairs, said there was nothing to justify reports regarding a conclusion of peace.

SANTIAGO, July 13.—Yesterday morning Gen. Toral sent out a reply to Gen. Shafter's second demand for the unconditional surrender of Santiago, made by the latter yesterday afternoon.

In his reply Gen. Toral referred to his refusal to accede to the American demand made on Sunday, and again reiterated his determination to resist.

Notwithstanding this the American batteries did not open fire Tuesday morning, and the renewal of the bombardment will propably be postponed until to-day (Wednesday), when it is hoped that all of Gen. Randolph's batteries will be in position. The siege guns landed yesterday will also be brought up as soon at possible.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—Gen. Shafter's report from Siboney, sent just before midnight Sunday night, caused officials of the war department to wait all day with the expectation of hearing the bombardment of Santiago had begun. No word to that effect came, however, up to the time the department closed, and though there is little reason to doubt that the general carried out the program of which he had notified the department, it was regarded as possible that he had consented to a further extension under the flag of truce in view of certain signs of weakening on the part of the Spanish commander.

MADE A QUICK TRIP !

Auxiliary Cruiser St. Louis Arrives at Portsmouth.

ADMIRAL CERVERA IS ON BOARD

All Commissioned Officers Had the Freedom of the Vessel Except the Governor of Santiago Who Refused to Sign the Papers.

SAMPSON'S REPORT ARRIVES

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 11.—The auxiliary cruiser St. Louis, with 746 Spanish prisoners, including fifty-four officers, arrived in Portsmouth harbor at 6.30 o'clock Sunday morning and a few minutes later dropped anchor just above Fishing Island. The big liner left Guantanamo at 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 5, and did not make a stop until she dropped anchor in Portsmouth harbor. Including the prisoners there were 1,038 people on board the boat. Out of this number there are ninety-one sick and wounded Spaniards under the care of surgeons. Admiral Cervera is confined to his cabin having been quite ill for the past three days, although he was able to be dressed Sunday morning. Captain Eulate, who was commander of the Vizcaya, and is among the prisoners, is also quite ill, having been wounded in the head in the battle off Santiago.

All of the Spanish commissioned officers have been on parole and had the freedom of the ship with one exception and he was the governor of Santiago de Cuba, who was trying to escape from the city on Admiral Cervera's flagship when she was destroyed on that memorable morning of July 3. He refused to sign the parole papers and was consequently confined in one of the cabins under guard. The remainder of the prisoners were confined between decks and closely guarded. A detachment of twenty eight marines from the United States ship Brooklyn under Lieutenant Bordan, and twentyone marines from the United States ship Marblehead were put abroad the St. Louis when she left Guantanamo for the north to guard the prisoners, but they had little or no trouble with the men.

The prisoners as well as nearly all the Spanish officers are dressed in clothes of every description, as most of them had come abroad with very little clothing, and what they are wearing was given them by the officers and men from the American fleet.

Admiral Cervera has remained in his cabin during the trip. Health Officer Towle visited him and was warmly greeted. He shook hands with the health officer and in good English said he was situated very pleasantly on the boat and had received nothing but the kindest and most considerate treatment from both officers and men ever since he had been taken prisoner. He had not been feeling well for three or four days but expects to be all right in a short time. He presents the appearence of a broken-hearted man and keenly feels the loss of his fleet, containing the pick of the Spanish navy.

At 11.50 a. m. Sunday the first officer from the St Louis, Ensign Payne, arrived at the navy yard to officially notify Admiral Carpenter of the arrival of the vessel, and with messages to Captain Philips. Cadet Fremont, of the St. Louis, landed with a gig loaded with mail from the fleet and it was sent in bags to the postoffice. Ensign Palmer came ashore with important official dispatches for Washington and left at 2.21 Sunday afternoon with a large grip, which he would allow no one to handle.

Admiral Cervera has remained in his cabin during the trip. Health Officer Towle visited him and was warmly greeted. He shook hands with the health officer and in good English said he was situated very pleasantly on the boat and had received nothing but the kindest and most considerate treatment from both officers and men ever since he had been taken prisoner. He had not been feeling well for three or four days but expects to be all right in a short time. He presents the appearence of a broken-hearted man and keenly feels the loss of his fleet, containing the pick of the Spanish navy.

At 11.50 a. m. Sunday the first officer from the St Louis, Ensign Payne, arrived at the navy yard to officially notify Admiral Carpenter of the arrival of the vessel, and with messages to Captain Philips. Cadet Fremont, of the St. Louis, landed with a gig loaded with mail from the fleet and it was sent in bags to the postoffice. Ensign Palmer came ashore with important official dispatches for Washington and left at 2.21 Sunday afternoon with a large grip, which he would allow no one to handle.

ISSUED BY THE PRESIDENT

Proclamation to the People of the United States.

THANKS TO ALMIGHTY GOD ASKED

A Request for Prayers That our Gallant Sons May be Shielded From Harm.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—President McKinley, last night, issued the following proclamation to the American people:

To the people of the United States of America:

At this time when to the yet fresh remembrance of the unprecedented success which attended the operations of the United States fleet in Manila bay on the 1st day of May are added the tidings of the no less glorious achievements of the naval and military arms of our beloved country at Santiago de Cuba, it is fitting that we should pause, and staying the feeling of exultation that too naturally attended great deeds wrought by our countrymen in our country's cause, should reverently bow before the throne of divine grace and give devout praise to God, who holdeth the nations in the hollow of his hands and worketh upon them the marvels of His high will, and who has thus far vouchsafed to us the light of his face and led our brave soldiers and seamen to victory.

I, therefore, ask the people of the United States, upon next assembling for divine worship in their respective places of meeting, to offer thanks to Almighty God, in His inscrutable ways, now leading our hosts upon the waters to unscathed triumph, now guiding them in a strange land through the dread shadows of death to success even at a fearful cost, now bearing them without accident or loss to far distant climes, has watched over our cause and brought nearer the success of the right and the attainment of just and honorable peace.

With the nation's thanks let there be mingled the nation's prayers that our gallant sons may be shielded from harm alike on the battlefield and in the clash of fleets and be spared the scourge of suffering and disease while they are striving to uphold their country's honor; and withal let the nation's heart be stilled with holy awe at the thought of the noble men who have perished as heroes die, and be filled with compassionate sympathy for all those who suffer bereavement or endure sickness, wounds and bonds by reason of the awful struggle. And above all, let us pray with earnest fervor, that He, the diapenser of all good, may speedily remove from us the untold afflictions of war and bring to our dear land the blessings of restored peace, and to all the domain now ravaged by the cruel strife the priceboon of security and tranquility.

[Signed.] WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

26,000 ACRES

Of Land Purchased for Forest Reservation.

Forestry Commissioner Rothrock has notified Governor Hastings that there has been purchased by the state about 26,000 acres at an average cost of seven cents an acre for state forestry reservations. In Clinton county 14,089 acres, 137 perches; in Monroe county, 1,244 acres, 42 perches; in Pike county, 7,404 acres, 3 perches. In addition to this it is thought enough land has been secured in Lycoming county to reach a total of 26,000 acres. Dr. Rothrock says at least as much more will probably become the property of the commonwealth in a short time. This land has all been stripped of timber and lies in an abandoned condition. Under the protection of the new fire laws the state authorities hope that it will soon acquire a young forest covering. Dr. Rothrock says in several counties the new fire laws have been tried and found to work well. There are many thousands of acres of lands now being sold for taxes which the owners stand prepared to practically deliver to the state almost as a gift on the sole condition that the commonwealth in protecting its lands will do nothing to injure the water power on the surface or to interfere with the development of the mineral wealth below.

Letters to Cuba.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—First Assistant Postmaster General Heath said yesterday that inquiries had been made in regard to the postal services to Cuba and the Philippines as to whether letters could be sent to or from persons other than soldiers and sailors.

He said that the mail service to these places is precisely the same as to any other part of the United States and mail will be transmitted to any one.

The postage to be affixed is the same as upon the ordinary mail carried by the postoffice, in the case of letters being two cents for each ounce or a fraction thereof. These rules will apply to any postoffice established in territory occupied by our forces.

New Postage Stamps Out.

The new series of postage stamps issued in recognition of the Trans-Mississippi exposition, are on general sale. They have been issued in denominations of 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 10 and 50 cents, and $1 and $2, and are similar in size to the Columbian series of 1893. The designs consist of a central scene, showing the development of the region beyond the Mississippi river, surrounded by a border, which is the same in all denominations, with the exception of the figures and letters representing the values. The entire series has been printed by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing from lined engravings, making a very attractive looking set of stamps. They will continue to be sold until December 31, 1893, after which they will be withdrawn, but will be receivable for postage any time afterwards.

Following are the scenes represented on the stamps and the colors of the various denominations: One-cent, "Marquette on the Mississippi," color dark green; two-cent, "Farming in the West," color copper red; four-cent, "Indian Hunting Buffalo," color orange; five-cent, "Fremont on the Rocky Mountains," color dark blue; eight-cent, "Troops Guarding Train," color dark lilac; ten-cent, "Hardships of Immigration," color slate: fifty-cent, "Western Mining prospector," color olive; $1, "Western Cattle in Storm," color black; $2, "Mississippi River Bridge," color red brown.

The News at Hobson's Home.

GREENSBORO, Ala., July 8.—It was nearly 10 o'clock yesterday morning when the lad who carries messages for the telegraph company ran up the walk and into the house of James A. Hobson, bearing an Associated Press telegram. Mr. Hobson threw down his morning paper and opening the envelope, hastily read the contents. His face flushed with pleasure and he stepped quickly to another part of the house calling Mrs. Hobson's name as he went. She soon responded, in a twinkling the family were in possession of the information that their brave son Richmond, who sailed the Merrimac into the harbor of Santiago, had been exchanged and was now in the hands of his friends. The family was overjoyed and for a moment tears came to the eyes of the aged mother. Mr Hobson then inscribed this telegram to the Associate Press,

"Accept warmest thanks for your kind message. It has lifted from our minds a heavy weight of anxiety."

The little town was informed of the good news and business was suspended while the tidings were discussed and speculation engaged in as to how soon Greensboro would see the hero of the Merrimac.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

The Pittsburg Dispatch, the leading daily of Western Pennsylvania, and one which is up to date in all its departments, published a fourth of July number in colors. The colors were impressed by a new improved Hoe press which has been designed to print various tints. THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

What the Financial Experts Say About the Country's Trade.

INTERESTING RECORD OF FAILURES

Cotton Crop Prospects Brighten and Prices Fall—Manufacturing Industry Extraordinarily Brisk for the Season.

RECORD OF BUSINESS FAILURES

NEW YORK, July 9.—R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade will say to-day.

The usual half yearly statement of failures by branches of business is peculiarly interesting because it shows that war and fears of war have not caused increase in commercial disasters. The fiscal year has ended with financial results a shade beyond general expectation and the new war tax begins to increase revenue, not seriously disturbing business in any line. No reason yet appears to apprehend that the war revenue will fall below expectations.

The cotton crop looks better, and the prospect is reflected in a decline of a sixteenth in the spot price. The manufacturing works at the north are quite well employed, more than usual during the vacation season, and the demand for goods is somewhat improving. Abroad the state of manufactures does not encourage hopes of an extraordinary demand for the raw material, while the stocks held by millers are known to be unusually large. The south is increasing the manufacture rapidly, and not entirely in place of northern mills. There is no disheartenment in other textile manufactures, and business is growing in silks, bagging, hemp products and linen. The manufacture of wool hesitates, although a distinctly better demand has appeared during the past ten days, because prices at which western wool is held are too high for eastern markets, and apparently too high for profitable manufacture. Sales for the week at the three chief markets have been only 3,200,000 pounds, of which 1,290,500 were domestic, against 14,120,500 last year, of which 6,989,500 were domestic. It is not enough to dismiss the iron industry with the bald statement that it is using up more iron, even at the slowest point of the year than ever before: It is getting bigger domestic contracts for agricultural implements and car materials and also for structural work than in any previous year, but especially for plates, the demand for which quite overruns the capacity of all the works and not mainly on government account. Nevertheless the demand has not pushed prices of material upward, for this is the waiting and fighting period, and the producers of pig and billets have yet some problems to settle between themselves.

Meanwhile no fall in prices appears, but a better demand for products with every expectation that within two weeks the producing capacity of the works will be much more fully employed than it has been for six months.

Failures for the week have been 229 in the United States against 206 last year.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Bradstreet's to-day will say:

While the tone of general business partakes of the usual midsummer stock-taking quietness, the number of favorable features seeming to hand has not materially lessened, and confidence in a good fall business is still wide spread. Business in speculative circles is restricted and the new war taxes have had an appreciable effect in reducing the volume of speculative sales by so called scalpers in grain and securities. The crop situation is in the main very favorable although the tendency now is to discard early extreme estimates of yield of wheat and 675,000,000 to 700,000,000 bushels estimates are more popular.

Business failures for the week number 241 as against 175 last week.

A COLLISION AT SEA.

The French Liner Labourgoge Sunk and 600 Lives Lost.

HALIFAX, July 6, 11 a. m.—The French ocean liner, Labourgoge, which left New York on Saturday bound for Havre, in a collision was sunk, with 800 persons on board of which number only 200 were saved.

HALIFAX, July 6, 2. p. m.—All the officers were drowned except the purser and three engineers. Only one woman was saved. One hundred and seventy were passengers the other thirty members of the crew.

A Rich Young Soldier Shoeing Horses

The fighting of those New York swells near Santiago brings to mind the case of a prominent young Clevelander, who, at the time the first call for men was made, came home to join the cavalry troop of this city and go to war.

His parents are wealthy, and he has always had a prominent position socially when at home, but when a show of patriotism was called for he was not the last to be heard from.

At school and college he went in for manual training and learned blacksmithing. Now, what do you suppose he is doing at the present time? Winning glory on the field of battle? Galloping over hills and dales, bearing despatches from one commander to another? No! He is shoeing horses at Chickamauga! And he isn't complaining, either.

"Somebody must do this," he writes, "and if I can be most useful to my country in this way, I shall be satisfied. When I enlisted it was for the purpose of doing my best to win glory for the Stars and Stripes, in any way that might be assigned to me. But there are many more pleasant things than working over an anvil in this climate.

Hawaiian Islands, U. S. A.

The passage of the Hawaiian annexation resolutions by the senate Wednesday by the decisive vote of 42 to 21 will be immediately productive, of course, of renewed criticisms, tuned to the key of anti-"imperialism." It will be argued that the action of congress on the Hawaiian question has been caused by the war and represents the first step in a territorial policy towards which they profess to believe the war has turned the United States and which it is in danger of following to its ruination. Who will believe this? Who does not know that the Hawaiian question is not a development of the war and that altogether the war has serve to emphasize the arguments in favor of annexation, the annexation resolutions have not been passed as a war measure? The Hawaiian islands constitute a holding desirable for the United States to possess in its business with the far East, either in time of peace or war. This is true without reference to what disposition may be made of the Philippines or Ladrone islands. If the United States were not to annex Hawaii it is fair to assume that later it would be compelled to interfere by force if some other nation did not bar it from the permanent advantages it is desirable for it to possess there. It is cheaper and more sensible to forestall that contingency. Furthermore the annexation of the islands now will in no way represent conquest or coertion. They will be added to the United States by "the just consent of the governed" whose request for annexation, pressed only by their desire for it, is now to be accepted.

The Sultan and Our Missionaries.

The Porte has demanded the recall of two American missionaries from the province of Aleppo, on the pretext that their mission for distribution of relief is likely to cause disturbances. "The sick man of Europe," as he is derisively termed, is as unreasonable as his political health is feeble. As a bright contrast to his obstinacy and stupidity, the people of America are acknowledging far and wide the beneficence of the mission of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, namely, to relieve and prevent malaria, rheumatism and kidney complaint, chronic dyspepsia, constipation and liver trouble. The nervous, the weak and the infirm derive unspeakable benefit from its use, and it greatly mitigates those infirmities specially incident to advancing years. Sleep, appetite, and a sensation of comfort throughout the system, ensue upon its use, which should be regular and persistent, An early resort to this fine preventive is logically suggested to those who seek its aid.

A Virginians Work.

Among the educational exhibits at the Pennsylvania Teachers Asscciation was the Primary Reading Chart by Miss Fanny D Carnefix, of Roanoke, Va., who is the finest and most popular of Primary teachers in Virginia. The Chart is pronounced by all educators such as principals of state Normal Schools and County Superintendents as being far superior to all other similar publications and it is highly recommended by educators of this and other states.

Wheelman Falls Thirty Feet.

Earl Fox, of Renovo, met with a serious accident on Sunday while in South Renovo on his bicycle. He was descending the hill at a rather rapid rate of speed when his wheel became unmanageable and he was precipitated to the ground below, a distance of thirty feet. How he escaped instant death is a miracle as he plunged head foremost. He was picked up and taken home and the latest report are that he will recover.

FASHIONS AT NEWPORT.

Summer Millinery—Sailors—Piazza Hats—Parasols—Patriotic Jewelry—Gowns—Accessories.

Sailor hats have now come forth and to young, fresh faces, are as hitherto, a boon in the way of coolness and simplicity. But there are sailors and sailors. The most useful are reproductions of those worn by men, having no trimming other than a band. "Short back" sailor hats, however, so called because the front brim extends out quite a distance in proportion to the back, show perfectly the "collar and tie" trimming, which consists of a wide fold usually velvet, that rises high and straight around to the front; below this is one or more folds of ribbon or silk and in front a very full, wired bow gives completion, below the brim at the back, flowers being admissible. These are often in handsome colors, such as burnt orange, red, pink or blue and have a very jaunty look when worn with pique or wool yachting dresses. Other fatigue hats in rough, mixed straw and in Alpine or round shapes with medium straight brims and simple trimming of a band and quill feathers, may be classed as models of the useful in millinery. For dressy piazza wear, Leghorn hats are the highest examples of fine millinery and lavishly adorned by flowers, are charming beyond description. Rivalling them as to costliness, come handsome chip or Neapolitan straws, for which the regulation trimming is rare ostrich plumage and fine veilings, which, though not so strictly beautiful as the Leghorns just mentioned, are extremely stylish, and the magic word atones for what may lack, if indeed there can be a lack when best materials are combined with the utmost skill. In

SHORT BACK SAILORS

PARASOLS

seen on Bellvue avenue, plaids or Roman stripes are frequently to be seen, especially the latter, doubtless because in keeping with the present run on Roman stripes in ribbons. Occasionally a white parasol with bordering in red, white and blue is seen, or white with a red and blue border. Changeable stylves are in particularly good taste and the ruffled have proved very successful. Elegant parasols wholly covered by shaded leaves attached to mousseline placed over silk, are veritable bowers of beauty and delicately perfumed by Murray and Lanman's Florida water, seem rather the canopies of Oriental houses, than the fairy-like choice of nineteenth century bicycle riders. In pins and brooches in enamelled stars and stripes, whether fully extended or apparently waving in the breeze, are constantly noticeable. Nautical devices rival flags and warlike implements such as muskets, swords, or cannons decorate fair ones who thus show bravery at a safe distance from battlefields. Tiny men-of-war indicative of marine combats, glisten among folds of lace or satin, and national devices may even complete the sacred circle of a lady's garter. Charms show patriotic emblems enclosed in glass and among precious gems, settings of rubies, diamonds and sapphires lead, because in red, white and blue. In the damp, though bracing air of grenadines are much worn, because they have the light effect of lawns or organdies, without losing their stiffness. The taffeta silk lining is also pre-eminently adapted to "keeping out" the dress and is a safeguard against the limp appearance which is so antagonistic to fashionable smartness. Nets over taffeta are also greatly in vogue. Many black grenadine or net dresses are rendered gay by guimpes of white, pink or blue satin tucked or laid under lace, and it is quite in order to simulate a guimpe effect by a yoke fastened on under the trimming. By a supply of these independent yokes to be worn with different dresses, great additional variety is possible, and wool gowns that otherwise would be objectionably grave are often thus lightened with most becoming result. Wide satin ribbon caught in front by a buckle, is the newest belt and sashes are a rage.

LUCY CARTER.

The Story Teller.

In eastern countries, in place of our story-writers, they have professional story-tellers. It is their art to interest their listeners with tales of love, and marvelous adventures, and hair-breadth escapes, and magic cures. There's a story of a wonderful medicine that has made thousands of cures that seemed almost magical, which every woman should read or hear. To have heard it or to read it, may save a woman her own life or that of her husband.

The medicine is the discovery of Dr. R. V. Pierce, an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the great Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It makes the appetite hearty, the digestion perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and rich, the nerves steady, the brain clear and the body strong. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and diseases of the air-passages. It cures nervous diseases and is the best medicine for overworked men and women. A woman may save her husband's life by keeping a bottle in the house, and getting him to resort to it when he feels out-of-sorts. All men are heedless about their health. Medicines stores sell it. Doctor Pierce's reputation is world-wide, and his fellow townsmen, of Buffalo, N. Y., think so highly of him that they made him their representative in Congress, but his great love for his profession caused him to resign that honorable position that he might devote the remainder of his life to the relief and cure of the sick.

Another good thing to have in the house is a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cure biliousness and constipation and never gripe.

Freight Wreck at Howard.

Friday evening a wreck occured on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad near Howard. A freight of 60 cars was just crossing the summit near Howard when they divided exactly in the middle. One half went flying down the hill in the direction of the P. R. R. tool house at Howard and when near the foot they jumped the track piling up one on top of another completely obstructing the road. The evening passenger train was compelled to transfer their passengers. The wreck was cleared away Saturday and trafic resumed.

Health for Everybody!

When the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs are in a healthy state, a person is practically disease-proof. Sickness can hardly find a foothold when those organs are well and strong. The Kidneys sift and strain from the blood poisonous and waste matter. When they are weak and diseased, the poisonous particles do not pass off, but remain in the system. They cause pain in the small of the back, Stone in the Bladder, and Bright's Disease.

It is easy to tell if your Kidneys are disordered. Put some urine in a bottle or glass for 24 hours. If there is a sediment, you have Kidney disease. Other signs are a desire to urinate often, particularly at night, and a smarting, scalding sensation in passing water.

Nothing is so good for curing diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs as Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, that grand medicine which has been before the public for over 30 years. It should be taken without delay by men and women who have any of the above symptoms, as the disease is apt to prove fatal if not attended to.

From the Convent of the Good Shepherd, Troy, N. Y., comes this short but pointed endorsement, signed by the sisters of that famed and pious institution:

"We have used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy for Kidney trouble, and have found it very efficacious."

If you wish to test Favorite Remedy before buying it, send your full postoffice address to the DR. Reception for C. M. Bower.

Bellefonte always rejoices when permitted to do honor to one of her citizens who has gained a high position, and so an immense crowd of citizens irrespective of party gathered at the residence of Calvin M. Bower, July 8th, to congratulate him on receiving the nomination by the Democratic party at Altoona for judge of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania.

Accompanied by the Milesburg band they marched to the Bower residence on East Linn street, A meeting was organized on the lawn Judge James A. Beaver acting as chairman.

Speeches were made by Judge John G. Love, Dr. Wm. Laurie, Rev. C. L. Goodling, Col. James P. Coburn, Prof. D. M. Wolf, D. F. Fortney and Calvin M. Bower himself. The gathering was entirely non-partisan and most of the speakers were Republicans. After the speech-making everyone congratulated Mr. Bower. There was a splendid display of fireworks and a delightful serenade by the band which brought the evening's enjoyment to a close.

Bullet Holes in the Flag.

Great indignation now throbs in the breasts of the people in the vicinity of Pleasant Gap. A few weeks ago a large handsome flag, made by the ladies of that place, was stretched from mountain peak to mountain peak. A few days ago the flag was taken down to be resewed, as the wind had badly torn it. When an examination was made of the national emblem, it was seen that there were several bullet holes through it. If the miscreant can be found he will be roughly handled.

Had His Hand Smashed.

James Welsh, son of yard foreman, Michael Welsh, of Tyrone, and who is brakeman on the Bald Eagle valley express met with quite a painful accident Thursday morning. They were shifting the engine on the 9:53 train at this station when his right hand got caught in the brake smashing one of his fingers.

—The contribution of the boys of Company B, 5th regiment, to their home friends and relatives was $794. Sent by express to the postmaster here in sealed envelopes and by him sent out to the persons to whom they were directed. It is thus seen that while we remember the boys they also remember those who are near and dear to them.

Sumerset Reinforces the Fifth

SUMERSET, Pa., July 8.—Sumerset county will contribute a volunteer company for the war. Captain H. S. Taylor and Quartermaster Sergeant Herbert Burchfield, of the Fifth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, arrived here Tuesday morning from Chickamauga with orders to recruit a company of volunteers from Bedford and Sumerset counties. Wednesday evening 120 men had passed the examination and Captain Lowe, of the regular army, is expected here Thursday morning when the company will be mustered into the service. Ninty nine per cent of the recruits are from this county, and Captain Taylor says they are as fine a body of men as any in the volunteer service.

E. O. Kooser, a young Sumerset attorney, has been commissioned captain of the company which will be known as company I, Fifth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers. The company will leave for Chickamauga as soon as the men have taken the oath. Hundreds of relatives and friends of the volunteers came here Wednesday accompanied by the Salisbury and Meyersdale brass bands, for the purpose of giving them a rousing send-off.

That Lizard Again.

A live lizard over an inch in length was disgorged the other day by James Sausser, near Easton. The little creature jumped about at a great rate. Sausser for three years has been a sufferer from what the doctors thought was stomach trouble. During the past six months he suffered terribly, and gradually lost in weight until he was a mere skeleton. He had a severe vomiting fit, and then the cause of the trouble appeared. Sausser says that over three years ago he took a drink at night from his cistern, and immediately after told his wife he was certain he had swallowed something alive, but he never took steps to get rid of it.

EXIT CONGRESS !

Our Two Law-Making Bodies Adjourn Sine Die

A QUARREL IN THE HOUSE

Mr. Cannon Denounces the Democrats as Delaying Legislation, Whereupon Bell, of Texas, Makes a Fervid Reply.

FINALLY ALL WAS KINDLY FORGIVEN.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Both branches of congress adjourned sine die at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The end of this session of congress in the house was marked by two notable incidents. One was sensationally partisan, well nigh resulting in personal conflict on the floor of the house. The scene followed a motion of Mr. Handy, democrat, of Delaware, to strike from the record portions of partisan remarks of Mr. Ray, republican, of New York, in a speech made yesterday. Handy contended that Ray had not made the remarks which appear on the record. Ray in reply declared he had uttered every word.

Members clung to the hope of getting their bills through in the remaining hour of the session and desired to have the Ray-Handy incident closed. The house became excited and Cannon, republican, of Illinois, denounced the democrats for delaying legislation.

A vote was taken and the house declined to strike out the speech.

Handy then called for division and demanded tellers.

Cannon stepped into the aisle and again declared the democrats were deliberately obstructing business.

Ball, democrat of Texas, addressing the republican side declared:

"The record is false and you know it was false when you voted against correcting it."

"That is a lie," cried Mr. Cannon and in an instant the belligerent members were struggling to reach each other, while many others were pulling and struggling to control them. The house was upon its feet. Mr. Warsh, republican of Illinois, seized Mr. Cannon and thrust him aside and when, Mr. Ball asked Mr. Cannon to "Come aside," and the latter was moving to comply, Mr. Lewis, democrat of Washington took charge of the Illinois member and restrained him. Meanwhile the speaker had been pounding hard and the sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Russel had seized a big silver mace and was moving among the members where the greatest disorder prevailed. Order was restored slowly and roll call.

The roll call upon Mr. Handy's motion to strike out resulted: Yeas 50, nays 106.

Later in the session Mr. Cannon explained that Mr. Ball had addressed his remarks not to him personally and all, therefore desired to withdraw his offensive statement.

The house then passed the bill to reimburse the states for expenses occurred in transporting, feeding, clothing and caring for soldiers in aid of organization of the volunteer army.

The second incident referred to was a much more agreeable one. In the latter all members joined irrespective of party affiliations. Upon the announcement of the adjournment of the house there were cheers followed by singing of patriotic songs. Representative Bromwell, of Ohio proposed three cheers for President McKinley, which were given twice over. Then followed cheers joined by the entire house for Admiral Dewey, Schley, Sampson, Hobson and General Joe Wheeler.

The whole house was one vast demonstration and flags were passed about to every member and were enthusiastically waved while the members sang the close of the Fifty-fifth congress.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner M. J. Locke, of this place went to Snow Shoe Friday and there empanelled a jury and held an inquest over the remains of the late Dr. Edward R. Burd.

All evidence possible to be obtained in the case was heard. The remains of the unfortunate man were found lying in a lane about half way between Snow Shoe and Clarence. There seemed to be some suspicion of foul play, many thinking that the man had been smothered to death and then carried to this place. This theory was supported by the fact that there was not a mark or bruise on his body, as one would have supposed there would have been in falling. He was lying on his back with one leg drawn up.

Dr. Locke however made a through examination and found the heart to be twice its normal size. He was satisfied that death was due to heart disease. The jury however was divided and no verdict was rendered.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11, 1898.

President McKinley has the whip hand of the situation, and he doesn't intend that either talk about peace or the surrender of the Spaniards at Santiago shall now interfere with his plans. If the destruction of Cervera's fleet and the Spanish defeats at Santiago have convinced Spain that it is time to beg for peace she must say so. She can accomplish nothing by talking peace unofficially, nor through the intervention of other powers. This country does not intend to allow any other country to have any hand either in obtaining peace for Spain or in arranging the terms of peace. Spain can have the terms of peace whenever she chooses to ask for them, and they will not be deviated from, nor will they be offered until they are asked for. Meanwhile the war is going to be pushed. It is expected at the Navy department that Commodore Watson's fleet, which is going to the coast of Spain, will get started this week, and that, by the 1st of August it will be heard from by Spain; and the expedition against Porto Rico is to be prosecuted with Santiago as a base of supplies. Gen. Miles has gone to Cuba to take command of the campaign.

The War and Postoffice departments have adopted a system for the improvement of the mail service to the soldiers. Under this system the quartermaster's department of the army will transport all mail within camp to and from the point of arrival and departure, and battalion and regimental adjutants will be held responsible for the correct distribution of mail. Every military post or camp established will be given a postoffice immediately, with a postal superintendent in charge. In short, nothing will be left undone that will aid in quick and constant communication between the soldiers and their relatives and friends.

Just a plain statement of what was done at the session of Congress just ended, without one word of argument, should be amply sufficient to bring about an increase of the Republican majority in the House. It was a business session, as well as a war session. Aside from the important war legislation, which has met every need of the administration and prepared, so far as possible, for its needs for the next six months, and the regular appropriation bills, a just and equitable National bankrupt law was enacted; Hawaii was annexed, and a number of other important laws placed upon the statute books.

The total amount appropriated by Congress at the session was $892,527,991, of which $361,788,095 was to meet the expenses of conducting the war against Spain.

As a special favor to those who are here in attendance upon the annual convention of the National Educational Association, Secretary Long instructed the Commandant of the Washington Navy Yard, which has been closed to visitors since the war started, to admit members of the association to the yards and shops. Another unusual courtesy extended to the association was the opening of the Congressional library building at night by the librarian. It was the first time that the handsome building had been open to visitors at night.

Secretary Long gives the following reasons for the success of the navy in the war—a success never equalled in any war by any navy, involving, besides individual ships captured or destroyed, the complete destruction of two Spanish fleets, that of Admiral Cervera having several warships that were as fine as any of their class afloat: First, the skill and mechanical genius of our people in building the best ships; second, the high personnel of the navy; third, the foresight of our naval authorities in liberally spending money for ammunition to be used in target practice; fourth, the help the secretary of the navy had from the assistant secretary and the bureau chiefs. It will be remembered that Theodore Roosevelt, who has just been promoted from lieut. colonel to colonel for gallantry in action before Santiago, was the assistant secretary of the navy until after the fighting began. Secretary Long said of his bureau chiefs: "When the Navy department saw that war was approaching the bureau chiefs were called together and told they would be held personally responsible for the efficiency of their various departments. Every reasonable amount of supplies was given them, and they were told that the navy must be put in thorough condition. Not enough credit has been given to these men, who made success possible by having the navy prepared."

President McKinley has named as commissioners to recommend to Congress needed legislation concerning Hawaii, our new possession, Senators Cullom and Morgan, members of the Senate committee on foreign relations; Representative Hitt, chairman of the House committee on foreign affairs, and Sanford P. Dole, president of the Hawaiian republic, and W. R. Frear, associate justice of the supreme court of Hawaii. Senator Davis, of Minn., would have been chairman of the commission had his private business not compelled him to decline the appointment.

Incendiaries at Montgomery.

At Montgomery Friday morning three incendiaries placed four crocks filled with oil under the corners of the opera house building. They applied the light and ran. The flames were discovered and the fire department responded and extinguished the fire. In the building are the stores of Housel & Baker and B. F. Decker. The latter firms' loss on store goods is about $1,000 and the damage to Housel & Baker is about $300. The opera house was also damaged. The incendiaries escaped.

Madrid Advices Regarding Peace Propositions.

GENERAL MILES NEAR SANTIAGO

Has an Interview With Sampson and Later With Shafter—No Desire to Take Any Honors From the Latter.

ARRANGING FOR THE FINAL STROKE

MADRID, July 12.—It is asserted that the United States makes the following demands as conditions of peace:

First, the possession of Cuba and Porto Rico, with a port in the Canaries.

Second, an indemnity of 48,000,000 pounds, about $240,000,000.

Third, the retention of the Philippines as a guarantee of the payment of the indemnity.

These terms are regarded as impossible.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—General Nelson A. Miles, commanding the United States army, arrived off Santiago bay shortly after noon yesterday.

Upon the arrival of the auxiliary cruiser Yale on which Gen. Miles was a passenger, communication was opened with Admiral Sampson and the two commanders were soon in conference.

During the early afternoon Gen. Miles landed at Playa Del Este and communicated with General Shafter, commanding the American forces before Santiago, with telephone. What the nature and rusult of the two consultations were is not disclosed at the war department, but Gen. Miles doubtless was placed in possession of all salient points of the situation from the view point of both the navy and the army.

It is understood to have been General Miles' purpose to proceed immediately to General Shafter's headquarters at Siboney and after discussing with Shafter the latter's plan of campaign, to make a personal examination of the American possession.

It is not to be understood that General Miles is to supercede General Shafter in command of the United States forces before Santiago. General Shafter is operating there under written instructions from the secretary of war, approved by the president, and so long as he is able physically to do so he will retain his command.

A prominent official of the war department said late last night that neither the administration nor General Miles had any desire to detract an iota from the credit due to General Shafter for the plans by which he hopes to achieve a victory at Santiago.

The cruiser Yale also had on board the Sixth Massachusetts regiment.

Up to midnight no news from either the army or navy at Santiago had reached the departments so far as the public was informed. So far the possibility of interrupted cable communication was suggested as an explanation for the lack of advices, it was announced at midnight that nothing had been filed at Playa Del Este for the officials here. Both Secretaries Long and Alger were at the white house during the evening but returned to their residences early and gave no outward signs of anxiety or expectation of startling news.

The arrival of General Miles and the conferences between him and the commanding officers of the army and navy is taken by some to indicate that if fighting occurred yesterday it was not of a serious character, for with a heavy engagement in progress it was hardly possible that Admiral Sampson or General Shafter would find time for conference. It is thought that probably the arrival of General Miles caused a suspension of active operations in order that the entire situation might be discussed. But this view of the situation is speculation and without definite advices no one can say exactly what the day has brought forth at Santiago. Officials contend that a delay of a day or so can only result in bettering the position of the American forces, give opportunity for the reinforcements to go to the front and allow the newly arrived artillery to be placed in advantageous location. It is believed that if the conflict was not resumed yesterday a final attack is not far distant.

Canned Tomatoes.

The statement that large shipments of canned tomatoes are being made from Tampa to supply the troops in Cuba needs some explanation. The canned tomatoes are not warmed up or cooked again before using, but are eaten cold just as they are taken from the can, forming a very acceptable ration for men living on bacon, beans and "tacks," as the hardtack biscuits are feelingly referred to.

Canned tomatoes furnish a refreshing and palatable vegetable supply in concentrated form. In fact, they take the place of fruit and vegetables and are often eaten before breakfast, the soldier in the field craving food of that sort.

ALL ARE FOR STONE.

Those who have been inclined to believe that the so-called anti-Quayites will not support Col. Stone at the coming election will feel more at ease when they read the sound advise to Republicans from the lips of General McCormick. It is well known that our distinguished fellow citizen was opposed to Col. Stone before the nomination, which was his right and privilege, but no man ever dared to question Mr. McCormick's Republicanism. At the meeting of the Republican County Committee Saturday afternoon Mr. McCormick said that while he had been opposed to the nomination of Col. Stone he acquiesced in the judgment of the convention, and believed it to be the duty of all Republicans to support the ticket.

This sound advise from one of the leading opponents of Col. Stone before the nomination will have a wonderful influence throughout the state on those Republicans who have been disposed to sulk because their favorite did not win in the convention. But Mr. McCormick is not one of that class. He is a Republican and abides by the decision of the majority. His choice for Govenor was not nominated, but he is for the nominee and tells Republicans that it is their duty to support the ticket.

The opposition to Col. Stone ended when the convention adjourned and no success will attend an attempt to revive it. The republicans of Pennsylvania will go to the polls solid and united and will give Col. Stone and the whole ticket a characteristic Pennsylvania majority.—Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

CLOSING OF CANTEENS URGED.

By Ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL MILITARY PARK, July 13.—At Camp Thomas yesterday the air was cool and pleasant. The day passed off without any stirring events. The departure of the recruits of the First brigade, First division, First corps to join their respective regiments at Charleston, constituted the only move, except that of the ambulance company for the First brigade.

General Brooke has received countless letters from ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance union in all parts of the country, urging the closing of canteens, the letters showing that the most exaggerated statements are afloat in regard to the condition of regimental stores. The general, finding it impossible to reply to these letters and deeming it of general importance and due to the friends of the soldiers here, has made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"No intoxicants are sold in the canteen. Beer is only on sale in limited quantities, no one being able to obtain an excess. No soldier is required to serve as salesman or in any other capacity in these stores. The articles sold mainly are cigars, tobacco and light forms of food. The store is a regimental affair, managed by the regiments, and all profits go to the use of the companies. The canteens are, by army regulations, a part of the army and General Brooke has no authority to close them. He has, however, ordered close supervision of them. Careful observation of the camp since its establishment has shown that there has been no drunkenness originating with the canteens and very little from any quarters, except as the moonshiners have made secret sales of whiskey."

The 1,000 recruits for the Second and Third Wisconsin and the Sixteenth Pennsylvania, on their way to Santiago, left today for Charleston.

The First Ohio cavalry will leave in the morning at 4 o'clock for Tampa, enroute to Santiago. Six trains have been provided to convey them.

Illegal Practices.

The disregard for existing laws with reference to the preparation of pension vouchers has caused the commissioner of pensions to issue a circular letter remonstrating against the practices referred to, and giving warning that all offenders will be punished. The letter states that:

"While it is believed that many of the officials who assist in the execution of pension vouchers have no conception of their criminal liability in the premises, it is equally certain that many others, to secure an advantage in the numerical number of their clientage, knowingly and willfully resort to violations of the law.

"There can be no justification in the prevalent haste and laxity existing in many offices, by which postdating, false certification, false claim and 'stock' witnesses have become a factor in the administration and acknowledgment of pension vouchers.

"It is the intention of the pension bureau, where the facts warrant such action, to institute criminal proceedings against the parties who indulge in these illegal and irregular practices and they are warned accordingly."

Baby's Smooth Fair Skin

Is Due to Hood's Sarsaparilla—It Cured Him of Dreadful Scrofulous Sores—Now in Good Health.

"At the age of two months, my baby began to have sores break out on his right cheek. We used all the local external applications that we could think or hear of, to no avail. The sores spread all over one side of his face. We consulted a physician and tried his medicine, and in a week the sore was gone. But to my surprise in two weeks more another scrofulous looking sore made its appearance on his arm. It grew worse and worse, and when he was three months old, I began giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla. I also took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before the first bottle was finished, the sores were well and have never returned. He is now four years old, but he has never had any more of those scrofulous sores." MRS. S. S. WROTEN, Farmington, Delaware.

Dentists in Session.

EDENSBORO, Pa., July 13.—The thirtieth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Dental society convened here yesterday. Over 100 dentists from all parts of the state are in attendance. The meeting is presided over by Professor W. A. J. Litch, of Philadelphia. An address of welcome was delivered by Alvin Evans, which was responded to by the president.

At the afternoon session most of the time was taken up by the president's address. Dr. Henry Gehrat, of Lewisburg, made an earnest plea for a preliminary examination in advance of that already required of prospective students.

At the evening session papers were read by Dr. O. E. Inglis and Professor L. Greenbaum, chairman of the clinic committee. The organization will continue in session three days.

As to the Money Orders.

A suspension of the postoffice money order business has been averted by an agreement between the officials of the treasury and postoffice departments that the new war tax law will not require stamps to be placed on domestic money orders. The anticipated trouble will be prevented by permitting postmasters to make an additional charge of the value of the stamp, two cents, or whatever the rate may be, at the time the order is issued.

SENATOR ON TRIAL

A Case Which is Now Greatly Exciting Wilmington, Del.

IS UP ON SERIOUS CHARGES

Two Men Are Now Serving Terms for the Same Crime and the Case Assumes More Than Ordinary Importance.

SEVERAL WITNESSES WERE HEARD

WILMINGTON, Del., July 12.—A trial probably unprecedented in the annals of this country, that of a member of the United States senate on a criminal charge, began in the United States circuit court in this city Monday afternoon before Judge Edward G. Bradford.

The defendant is Richard Rollin Kenney, of Dover, junior United States senator from Delaware, indicted upon a charge of aiding and abetting William D. Boggs, who has confessed to robbing the First National bank of Dover, of which institution he was paying teller, of the sum of $107,000. The counts in the indictment, to which Senator Kenney has pleaded not guilty, charge him with aiding and abetting Boggs to the extent of about $3,500.

Two men, Ezekiel T. Cooper, of Milford, and Thomas S. Clark, of Dover, have already been convicted of similar charges and are serving terms of eighteen months and five years respectively in the New Jersey penitentiary at Trenton.

Boggs was the principal witness for the prosecution in each case. His story was to the effect that the greater part of his stealings were expended in stock speculations and gambling, and that in the stock speculations the defendants were associated with him in his deals, and they gave him their checks when they had no funds in the bank, Boggs taking care of them from the bank's funds.

The high position of the defendant drew to the court room a crowd that jammed its capacity and overflowed deeply into the corridors by a large number of women being among the spectators. The session began at 2.30 o'clock, when Senator Kenney entered the court room accompanied by his counsel, United States Senator George Gray and Lewis C. Bird, of this city. The government was represented by District Attorney Lewis C. Vandegrift.

As soon as the defense had renewed the formal plea of not guilty which had been withdrawn pending argument on demurrer's indictment, as a result of which fourteen counts in the indictment, charging conspiracy with Boggs, had been ruled out leaving eleven counts charging aiding and abetting, the work of drawing the trial jury was commenced. It occupied nearly an hour, both sides closely scrutinizing each juror called and exercising their full powers of challenge.

The first witness was Harry A. Richardson, president of the bank. He testified to the defalcation by Boggs and said that Boggs admitted to him his crime. This was all the goveanment brought out from President Richardson, but the defense put him through a long cross-examination bearing upon the fact that he never had any suspicion of Boggs dishonest until after his flight, when the defalcation was discovered. He admitted that he only heard that Boggs was addicted to playing poker, but that on being brought before the directors and charged with this, Boggs confessed and promised to play no more.

Edward Ross, of Philadelphia, an expert accountant, who went over the books, testified that the defalcation amounted to $107,000. He also said that he found that various checks drawn by Mr. Kennedy had come to the bank and been cashed when he had not a sufficient balance to his credit to meet them.

E. D. Page, of Philadelphia, who was manager for E. Cuthbert & Co., the firm of brokers with which Boggs conducted his stock speculations, testified that checks signed by Kennedy were used in the stock transactions. All were produced and offered in evidence save one for $250, and the defense objected to the admission of testimony with respect to this one. Pending decision upon this objection, the court adjourned until this morning.

RATHER ROMANTIC.

The Story of a Convict Who Is Said to be Heir to $20,000.

There is now in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus a man who goes by the name of Watson but whose real name is said to be F. D. Wasserman. He is serving a sentence for embezzlement and his time will be up in October; 1900, if he continues his good behavior. Wasserman is said to be a resident of Cleveland and to be well connected.

He claims to have fallen heir to some $20,000 in a rather romantic manner. This news comes from an official of the penitentiary and the story in brief is this: On March 23, 1898, "in a small town near Tyrone" he rescued a mother and daughter from horrible accident caused by the running away of a team which they were driving. Seriously hurt he was nursed back to health by the ladies whom he saved. The mother's name is given as Mrs. Dora Murray and that of the daughter is also Dora. The mother who is now said to be dead left a fortune which amounted to be about $40,000 and this she divided between her daughter and her rescuer. It is further said that the administrator of the estate is R. C. Treadwell and that he has probated the will in Blair county. The story goes that Treadwell had a long hunt before he found the missing heir and Wasserman says he went under an assumed name because he did not want his relatives to know he was in trouble.

A letter was received by Chief Foust of Altoona Sunday and of course the court records could not be looked up. Any person having any knowledge of the accident or of the truth of the statements concerning the same, will confer a favor on the chief by communicating with him on the subject.

THE CRISIS HANGS FIRE.

It is supposed here that Gen. Miles, with additional reinforcements on the Yale, will arrive at Siboney Monday night or Tuesday morning, and if a surrender has not been secured by that time it is believed that the assault upon the town proper will be prosecuted at once with the greatest energy and determination.

Tests made recently of the naval ordnance gave very unsatisfactory results when it was attempted to project shells over the high hills from the open sea into Santiago city. Possibly better results will be attained to-day if the attack is resumed then, but there is more likelihood that the main reliance will be upon such of the lighter draught vessels of Admiral Sampson's fleet as may succeed in getting closer to the shore and in a better position than the heavy battleships. The officials here are satisfied that what appears to be delay on the part of Gen. Shafter was really caused by his efforts to carry out strictly the president's injunction to prevent the Spanish army from escaping from Santiago. He might have attacked the town several days ago with the result that if the Spanish were overcome they would have retreated without obstruction to the northwest beyond the reach of our soldiers to follow.

The cable communication between Washington and Gen. Shafter's headquarters has now been gotten into excellent condition, so that it has been possible to receive at the department a message within twenty minutes after it had been dispatched by Gen. Shafter. Col. Allen who is in charge at Gen. Shafter's end of the line, has reported to the department that he is now engaged in laying a cable from Guantanamo to Playa del Este, which will still further reduce the time required for the exchange of communications.

Ex-Secretary Herbert had quite a conference with Secretary Long this afternoon upon the subject of fireproof wood for naval construction. He brought with him a formidable array of facts gathered from the newspaper reports of the naval battle to show that fire was the element that worked the greatest destruction among the vessels of the Spanish squadron and that wherever American vessels had been hit, even in the case of the tiny torpedo boat, they had escaped such fires because all their woodwork was fireproof. So impressed was Secretary Long with the statement that he has concluded to reconvene a special board, which was appointed some time ago to deal with this matter and which had recommended that the use of the prepared wood be curtailed in some measure in American warship building.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—The big siege guns of the army and the guns of the navy are pounding away at the defense of Santiago, the former at the fortifications and entrenchments of the city, and the latter at the defenses at the entrance to the harbor. Admiral Sampson and General Shafter are co-operating in the attack.

The war department has posted these bulletins of dispatches received last evening,

SIBONEY, Cuba, Via Hayti, 5:55 p. m., July 10 Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.:

HEADQUARTERS FIFTH ARMY CORPS, July 10.—I have just received a letter from Gen. Toral declining unconditional surrender. Bombardment by army and navy will begin at as near 4 p. m., today as possible.

SHAFTER,
Major General.

SIBONEY, Cuba, July 10.—Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.—The St. Paul has just arrived with Gen. Henry and his command and quartermaster's stores.

HUMPHRIES.

SIBONEY, Cuba, July 10.—Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.—The Catania has just arrived with the first District of Columbia volunteers.

HUMPHRIES.

Shortly after midnight the war department gave out the following dispatch from Gen. Shafter:

"PLAYA DEL ESTE, July 10.—To Adjutant General, Washington, D. C.

"Headquarters, Fifth Corps, July 10.

"Enemy opened fire a few minutes past four with light guns, which were soon silenced by ours. Very little musketry firing, and the enemy kept entirely in their entrenchments. Three men slightly wounded. Will have considerable force to-morrow enough to completely block all the roads on the northwest. I am quite well.

(Signed) SHAFTER."

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 11.—The steamship Rita, captured recently off Cuba by the Yale and purchased Saturday by the United States government for $125,000 sailed for Santiago yesterday afternoon with 650 men of the Sixth Illinois regiment and their baggage. One battalion of the regiment sailed with General Garretson on the Columbia. It was found that the Rita could not carry the remaining 800 men, so Companies D and M were left here.

The embarkation at 6:30 o'clock was an inspiring sight. The men of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania and Second and Third Wisconsin regiments were drawn up on neighboring pierheads, their regimental bands playing patriotic airs, which were responded to by the band of the Illinois regiments on the steamer. It had been raining hard all day, but as the Rita drew out into stream a perfect rainbow appeared, spanning the entrance to the harbor like a triumphal arch under which the ship was sailing. The watching soldiers caught the significance of the incident and a cheer swept along the water front that could be heard all over the city.

OUR STATE TEACHERS

The Second Day's Session of Their Annual Convention.

GUESTS OF THE STATE COLLEGE

A Most Delightful Trip to This Famous Institution of Learning—Royally Entertained by the College Authorities.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR 1899

Over three hundred people took advantage of the excursion to the State College, where the Wednesday afternoon session of the State Teachers' Association was held in the beautiful college chapel, and where every kindness possible was shown to the visitors by Dr. Atherton and the other attaches of the college.

The services opened at 2:15 by the singing of "America." Everyone joined heartily in the singing, led by Prof. Smith.

Dr. Geo. W. Atherton, president of the college, was introduced and welcomed the visitors to Pennsylvania State College. He regretted that the college vacation was now on and that many of the houses were closed, as he would like to have extended the hospitality of their homes. He explained the plans which he had prepared for the entertainment of the visitors. He also gave a brief review of the work of the college and closed by calling attention to the sights to be seen.

Dr. G. M. Philips, of the West Chester Normal school, returned the thanks of the association to President Atherton for his cordial welcome. He congratulated President Atherton on the great progress made by the college.

The regular business of the convention was then taken up and Prof. George E. Little, of Washington, D. C., was introduced and gave an interesting talk on "Drawing: How Much and What Kind in the Public Schools?" He illustrated his talk by drawing on a blackboard, explaining different styles and principles of drawing. His talk was brim full of witty sayings, and many of his illustrations were very comical, but through it all he gave many good points of advantage to teachers He advocated that every teacher should learn crayon drawing, and also advocated the teaching of drawing from the blackboard. His talk proved very entertaining and instructive.

The subject was then open for discussion, but as there was no one who wished to speak on this subject Hon. John Q. Stewart was called on for a speech. He said he felt glad to be able to visit this grand institution and appreciated the pleasure extended to them. He urged that the teachers of the state should take a greater interest in the association and that every effort be made to increase its membership.

This closed the session and the convention adjourned to enjoy the sights about this famous institution.

After the business session of the convention the visitors were escorted through the various buildings, taken to the top of the main building and shown one of the grandest views in this state, or allowed to stroll through the grounds at will and enjoy the many beautiful and interesting sights to be seen there. For those who were too tired to walk carriages were provided. The Mechanic Arts building, laboratory, ladies' cottage, conservatory and many other places of interest were visited.

At 5:30 o'clock the bell in the main building sounded and this was notice to all that the luncheon so thoughtfully provided by the college was ready to be served in the big armory. The guests filed in until over 400 were seated at the long tables. The luncheon was highly enjoyed by all; it should have been called a supper, for it came nearer being a banquet than a luncheon. It was served by Caterer Charles Harrison, of State College, and certainly reflected great credit on him. After every one had enjoyed the good things to their entire satisfaction speeches were made by President Brumbaugh, Hon. John Q. Stewart, Dr. D. J. Waller and Dr. J. P. McCaskey.

Mr. Stewart moved that "a vote of thanks be extended to President Atherton and the college authorities for the many kindnesses shown the teachers during their visit to the college." This motion was seconded by Messrs. McCaskey and Waller. President Brumbaugh called for the ayes and everyone responded. He would not call for the nays as he said none would be accepted.

President Atherton closed the speech making with a few pleasant remarks.

The excursionists then took their special train for Bellefonte, and in the evening held a session in the Court House. Dr. G. W. Atherton delivered an eloquent address before a large and appreciative audience. His subject was: "Public Education Under a Republican System of Government." It was listened to with wrapt attention by all present and was delivered in the doctor's usual scholarly manner.

THURSDAY MORNING.

This morning's session opened with a song service, led by Prof. Smith, after which Dr. D. J. Waller, Jr., led in prayer.

The president appointed Superintendents Robb, Weaver and Elliot as a committee to audit the accounts of Treasurer Keck.

Dr. J. P. *Mc*Caskey read a report recommending that pictures of Thaddeus Stevens be purchased and put in the State Normal schools of the State. $175 has been appropriated for memorial work.

Treasurer Keck arose and expressed the fear that there was not enough money in the treasury to meet these expenses.

Dr. McCaskey promptly stated that any shortage he would gladly make up out of his own pocket, and then paid a high tribute to Thaddeus Stevens, whom he had known personally. He seemed to be all bound up in the work of honoring the memory of distinguished educators. He stated that he had paid out of his own pocket already $2,500.00 for memorial work.

Supt. Robb, of Bryn Mawr, offered an amendment that the memorial appropriation be reduced to $100.

Quite a debate took place on this subject. Supt. Smith, Treasurer Keck, Dr. Waller, Supt. E. Mackey, Miss Elizabeth Lloyd and Professor Richard Darlington participated in the debate. A vote was taken and the amendment was lost. The original motion was then voted on and carried, and $175.00 were appropriated for the memorial fund.

The secretary was then directed to cast a ballot for the officers nominated yesterday and they were declared elected. Their names were published in our last issue.

The regular program of the day was then taken up and W. W. Klechner, principal of the High school of Williamsport, was introduced. His subject was: "The True Function of the High School in the Public School System." He explained his subject in a lucid and entertaining manner. He said, among things, that the standard required in the High school is increasing. The High school is a magnet, drawing from their lowest depth the highest aspirations of the student. Massachusetts has a high reputation for its High schools. The High school is the school of the people. It establishes an aristocracy of education, taking the place of an aristocracy of wealth. It breaks down the barriers of wealth. Most plainly the High school does not exist solely for preparing for college. It prepares boys for business and for the struggle of life. No High school can restrict itself solely to preparing for college. The High school that prepares its pupils for the best aims in life is the successful school.

A young man should know himself and the world and that is the aim of the true High school. The High school is the vestibule to the highest type of living. Still it affords the best preparation for College.

Rev. T. P. Stevenson of Wymwood, Pa., was the next speaker. Subject. The Right and Duty of Teachers in Relation to Christian Citizenship being taught in our schools. He made a strong argument in favor of the teaching of true christianity in the schools to make the pupils better, stronger men and women. His talk was for ten minutes and was instructive and interesting.

Prof. Wm L. Tomlins, of Chicago, Ill., was then introduced and gave a talk on the subject. "Music in the Public Schools." He discussed what may be done to help along music in the public schools, and showed the great advantage to be incurred. His talk was delivered in a practible sensible manner and was a source of great profit to his hearers. He touched upon the fact that music will touch the heart of boy's where nothing else will, and that music will not lend itself to anything that is unwholesome. Music is universal, the mother sings to her child, the lover to his sweetheart, it follows us to the grave. The speaker talked for over an hour and held the close attention of the audience. The convention then adjourned until 2 p. m.

The closing session of the State Teachers' Association, which had been in convention for three days, was largely attended. The president called it to order promptly at 2:00 p. m. Thursday. A service of song was first on the program, led by Prof. Smith.

The first part of the afternoon was taken up by the discussion of the Kindergarten work in our public schools. The great advantages of this work was shown up in several able papers.

The first speaker was Miss Georgia Allison, of Pittsburg, president of the State Kindergarten Association. Her subject was: "The Future of Kindergarten Work in the State." She handled her subject in a clear and forcible manner and gave much useful information about the work.

The next to discuss Kindergarten work was Miss L. P. Wilson, of Altoona. The subject of her most interesting paper was: "Spirit of Kindergarten in Primary Work."

"Child Study in the Kindergarten" was the subject of another most entertaining paper along the same line of work and proved very instructive.

The president then announced the subject open for discussion, and Miss Elizabeth Lloyd, of Berks county, who, besides being a delegate, is a correspondent of the Public Ledger, Philadelphia, and Miss Fannie D. Carnefix, of Roanoke, Va., ably discussed the subject.

The president then stated that after the closing of the morning session almost every woman in the house had come forward and asked him to request Prof. W. L. Tomlins to sing. He therefore requested the Professor to so favor them. Prof. Tomlins is said to be without an equal on the American continent as a musical instructor, which vocation he has followed for the past 45 years. He is a fascinating talker and one never tires listening to him, and his singing was vociferously applauded. He favored the audience with "The Suwanee River," "Lead, Kindly Light," and the "Star Spangled Banner." He also answered questions asked him in regard to music and gave some valuable information.

The report of Treasurer D. S. Keck was then read. It showed an enrollment at this place of 221 member, 6 of whom are life members. There were 92 from Centre county. The expenses here, including the appropriation for Memorial fund, were $177.22, the receipts $216 50, leaving a deficit of $260.72.

The newly elected president, Supt. E. Mackey, of Reading, was then called to the chair. He made an appropriate speech, in which he thanked the association for the honor bestowed and promised to spare no effort to make the next convention one of great profit to all. He said this meeting had been a most inspiring one and told how he had been touched by the talks of Dr. McCaskey and Prof. Tomlins. He closed by paying a high tribute to the memory of a dear friend, a native of this place, whose tomb is in Union cemetery, Hugh McAllister Beaver.

Dr. James L. Hughes, of Toronto, Canada, who was to have spoken in the evening, sent word at the last moment that he could not be present, and the lecture had to be abandoned. The convention therefore adjourned sine die at 4:00 o'clock.

After the session carriages were in waiting, provided by the citizens of Bellefonte, and all of the teachers who so desired were taken for a drive to the different points of interest about our city.

Children in Hot Weather.

Dr. C. Hampson Jones, health commissioner of Baltimore, gives the following suggestions as to the care of young children during hot weather:

"The proper care of young children in hot weather naturally attracts attention and discussion, after passing through our last hot wave If children were all alike physically and mentally, there would be some chance to formulate rules for their care that could be followed strictly, and could be relied upon to give favorable results in all cases. Some children are fat, others lean; some have strong digestion, others weak; some have good excretory organs (such as the kidney), others bad; some have irritable, nervous systems, others have not, etc., etc.

"But, in spite of this series of differences, it will be well, perhaps, to follow the following rules:

"Sleep—Let a baby sleep as much as possible. While it is asleep don't keep it to warm. Keep it out of drafts.

"Food—Let the child be fed at regular hours. Don't feed it at night (10 p. m. to 5 a. m.). If it is bottle-fed, boil the bottles and all other vessels which contain the milk. Never allow milk to stand in bottles after feeding. Don't feed the baby every time it cries; its stomach needs rest, like that of an adult. Don't try to find out how much sooner than others your child will eat meat potatoes, cabbage, etc. Give cooled, sterilized water frequently.

"Clothing—When the day is hot, please remember that the child is suffering with the heat just as much as the grown persons. Loose, comfortable and light clothing. Remember that a tepid bath gradually cooled will frequently soothe a baby so much that it will rapidly go to sleep after the bath."

Found A Hermit's Gold.

August N. Lorrian, the hermit of Bakerstown, was found dead in his yard at that place July 6. Although he was supposed to be very poor $376 was found buried beneath the floor of his shanty. With it was the deed for his house and 2 acres of ground and some other papers.

Lorrain had lived at Bakerstown for a number of years. He worked for the farmers and they gave him plenty to eat. Recently he became afflicted with dropsy. Kind neighbors brought him food. If it disagreed with him he declared it had been poisoned. Deputy Coroner Mark Donley held an inquest yesterday. He discovered a trap door in the floor of his shanty. Under it he found $376 in gold, silver and bills. The valuables were brought to the city and will be kept for the present until an administrator is appointed.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Judge Porter Will Accept.

PITTSBURG, July 7.—Asked if he would accept the appointment to fill the vacancy on the superior court bench, Judge W. D. Porter said: "I have not been officially apprised of my nomination, but have no doubt of the correctness of the newspaper reports. Being, of course, aware of the probability of my selection, I have thought over very carefully. My position here has been very pleasant and up until a very short time ago I had no idea of changing it. I shall, however, accept the place on the superior bench."

Word from Miss Barton.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The following cablegram has been received at the White House from Miss Clara Barton, dated Siboney, Cuba. July 4:

Kennan and Egan reached here yesterday. Five more of us came today by army wagon and on foot. Eight hundred wounded have reached here from the front since Friday morning. Surgeons and litter squads have worked night and day. Hospital accommodations inadequate and many of the wounded lie on the water-soaked ground. The Texas is feeding refugees at Siboney. Texas will go to Guantanamo tomorrow.

Wainwright's Chivalrous Courtesy.

Lieutenant Commander Wainwright (formerly with Capt. Sigsbee on the Maine) showed himself a dashing fighter when, in a converted pleasure yacht, he fearleesly tackled and knocked out two Spanish torpedo boat destroyers under the guns of Morro Castle. In his considerate, chivalrous courtesy to the white-haired Spanish admiral he showed himself an American gentleman.

Sheridan Troop to Move.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Camp Alger will be increased within two weeks by the arrival of six additional regiments of infantry, three troops of cavalry and a battery of artillery.

Four regiments and the cavalry will come from Mt. Gretna, Pa. The latter consists of the Philadelphia City Troop, the Sheridan Troop from Tyrone, and the Governor's Troop from Harrisburg. Illinois and Massachusetts will supply one regiment each. It is believed the Eighth Illinois (colored) will come from Chicago. The artillery will come from New York. None of these troops have yet started.

The Twelfth Pennsylvania has been supplied with 40,000 rounds of ball cartridges and as many more will be issued to the regiment by Saturday. It is thought that if Santiago is captured within two weeks this regiment will go to Porto Rico. If not the men will join Shafter's army.

CASTORIA.

Hand Torn to Shreds.

James Wilhelm, an employe of the Beech Creek railroad at Jersey Shore Junction, had his right hand terribly lacerated by the explosion of a dynamite cracker on the Fourth. Wilhelm had just purchased the dynamite cracker at the store of J. B. Dorey and walked outside to explode it. Instead of placing it on the ground before lighting, he held it in his hand. There was a very short fuse attached and before Wilhelm could drop the cracker an explosion occured, his hand being literally torn into shreds.

A Soldier's Song.

The following song was written by one of our soldier boys, of Company B, now at Chickamauga. It can be sung to the tune of "Life's Railway to Heaven":

"JUST BEFORE THE BATTLE, MOTHER."

Just Before the battle, mother,
I'm thinking most of you,
While upon the field we're watching,
With the enemy in view.
Comrades brave around me lying
Filled with thoughts of home and God,
For well they know that on the morrow,
Some will sleep beneath the sod.

CHORUS.

Farewell! Mother, you may never
Press me to your heart again;
But Oh, you'll not forget me, mother,
If I'm numbered with the slain.

Oh! I long to see you, mother,
And the loving ones at home,
But I'll never leave our banner,
Till in honor I can come.
Tell the traitors all around you,
That their cruel words we know
In every battle kill our soldiers.
By the help they give the foe.

Hark! I hear the bugle sounding,
'Tis the signal for the fight,
Now may God protect us, mother,
As he always does the right.
Hear the battle-cry of "Freedom,"
How it swells upon the air!
Oh yes, we'll rally 'round our standard,
Or we'll perish nobly there!

Defeated Yet Holding Out.

PARIS, July 8.—The Tempes last evening published a dispatch from Madrid which says that its correspondent, in spite of the official denials published in the newspapers, persists in the belief that the Spanish cabinet to-day not only deliberated upon the question of negotiating for peace, but charged the minister for foreign affairs, Duke Almedovar De Rio, and the minister of public instruction, Senor Gamaza, to study the matter and report upon it.

The correspondent adds that he does not believe the pope will again intervene, although he has charged the papal nuncio at Madrid to renew his expressions of sympathy with Spain and the dynasty and has also ordered the Spanish prelates to restrain the Curlists.

According to a dispatch from Rome to the Imparcial of Madrid, Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, in response to the pope's intercession, has declared he will exert all his influence, with the co-operation of his two allies, to bring about an honorable peace.

CARRYING THE PORT GRAPES TO THE WINERY, ON THE HEADS OF MEN AND WOMEN, NEAR THE VALLE DE MENETIZ WHERE THEY ARE DUMPED IN THE MASHING VATS TO BE TRODDEN FOR PORT WINE.

The rugged hills with projecting rocks of brown stone and shale containing a large quantity of iron, make it impossible to use wagons here hence the grapes have to be carried to the treading vat or larger as they are called, and some are large enough for twenty persons to tread, which they do dancing to music furnished by the proprietor.

ALFRED SPEER,

the Pioneer wine grower of New Jersey whose Port Grape wine and Burgandy rivals the world, imported the Port Grape vines many years ago, and planted vineyards in the Passaic Valley N. J. The soil in Passaic county, New Jersey, is identical to that of de'Menetiz.

Speer's New Jersey Vineyards are situated in the Passaic valley below the mountain range and the grapes are carted to the winery in the town of Passaic where they are mashed between rollers made of rubber, which do not break the seeds, and made into wine.

These grand wines of Speer's that have mellowed in flavor in the course of years of ripening, are the choicest wines in this country and can only be obtained by paying a price that is higher than new wines from western vineyards. Mr. Speer deems it necessary for a healthy wine that it be allowed years to mature in wood to get rid of its coarse parts; with this object he keeps his wines several years in fumigated cellars and frequently racks before bottling or offering for sale. The reputation of Speer's wines as a valuable medicinal and family wine extends around the world.

MANY REFUGEES!

Numerous Terrorized People Have Already fled.

MANY APPEALS TO SHAFTER

When They Were Informed Toral Did Not Mean to Surrender There was a Rush to Get to the American Side.

GREAT DEMAND MADE FOR FOOD

EL CANEY, NEAR SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 8.—Between 12,000 and 15,000 innocent victims of the war have fled here in wild panic to escape the terrors of the threatened bombardment of Santiago and they are now confronted by the horrors of starvation. In their helpless confusion they are appealing to General Shafter for succor. Most of them are foreigners (principally French, or with an admixture of foreign blood) and their interests are being looked after by their consuls. When they were informed Tuesday that General Toral refused to consider the question of surrendering they swarmed out of the north gate of the city all day and trudged under the blazing sun over the road, which in many places was ankle deep in mud. Tottering old men and women were supported by children, and mothers with babes at their breasts struggled on toward El Caney, San Luis and other towns. Most of them came here Tuesday night and over five thousand of them slept in the village, which under ordinary circumstances hardly accommodates 300 people. They were crowded together in the houses, upon the verandas and in the streets. At daylight those who had been overtaken by darkness on the wayside began to pour in and at this honr they are still coming. Already more than 15,000 are here. They were not allowed to bring food with them and those who have money are as destitute as those who are without. Rich and poor, cultured and ignorant, white and black are huddled together, choking the passageways between the houses, all with gaunt despair written on their countenances. The ignorant desire only to be fed, and the cultured want to get away anyhow, from the war which has driven them from their homes;

Pathetic sights are witnessed on all sides. There are ladies of good birth and education, supported by frail girls, who hide their faces from the vulgar gaze of others who surge about them. In the eyes of both mothers and daughters is the haunted look which wild animals have when driven to bay.

General Shafter explained to the consuls Tuesday the impossibility of caring for these poor people out of army supplies, but he did spare some rations, which were given out with sparing hands Tuesday night to the women and the feeble old men.

Wednesday Miss Clara Barton and Mr. George Kennan, of the Red Cross society, offered to provide 5,000 rations if General Shafter would transport them. After consultation with the French consul, General Shafter agreed to do so.

GETTING READY

Every expectant mother has a trying ordeal to face. If she does not get ready for it, there is no telling what may happen. Child-birth is full of uncertainties if Nature is not given proper assistance.

Mother's Friend

is the best help you can use at this time. It is a liniment, and when regularly applied several months before baby comes, it makes the advent easy and nearly painless. It relieves and prevents "morning sickness," relaxes the overstrained muscles, relieves the distended feeling, shortens labor, makes recovery rapid and certain without any dangerous after-effects.

Mother's Friend is good for only one purpose, viz.: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain.

The first pack train arrived at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and was unloaded in the village square among the clamoring cries of thousands. The better class held back, while the ignorant, especially the negresses, pressed forward, frantically appealing for bread.

Captain Finlay, who commands the garrison in the town, saw to it that enough food was reserved to supply those whose delicacy and good breeding restrained them from begging; Many of the better classes have offered to pay almost any price for transportation to Juragua and thence to go by our transports to some foreign port. It appears likely that some arrangement can be made to get them out of the country. A few of the best Spanish families came to El Caney, but many preferred to share the fortunes of the war, while others went off northward to San Luis and other places where they have villas and estates.

Spanish Mutineers Shot.

Headquarters of Gen. Shafter, July 7.—About 50 of the 400 Spanish prisoners on the cruiser Harvard attempted to escape Tuesday night. In some way a number of them secured guns and made a wild dash for liberty from the steerage, where they were confined.

Their rush was met by the deadly bullets of the guards and six were killed and 15 wounded. The firing ended the mutiny. No Americans were hurt.

Sons of the Bay State in Demand.

The part which Massachusetts has taken and is taking in the present war is one of which her citizens have a right to be proud. We have referred to the fact that when deeds of daring are called for, as in the sinking of the Merrimac, where more than half of the men chosen to carry out the work were of Massachusetts origin, sons of the Bay State are in demand.

A TRAVELLER'S TESTIMONY.

What He Carried on the Cars

To Take when Travelling.

Every traveller knows that continuous journeying on the railroad is very apt to derange the system in some way. In spite of springs and soft seats there is a continuous jar and vibration, which acts upon the nervous system, and produces results varying somewhat, according to the strength of the traveller or his predisposition to some specific ailment. The most common consequence of continuous car riding is constipation. And this condition invariably produces headache, and tends to biliousness. J. J. Converse, St. Louis, Mo., found a way to avoid the evil effects of constipation, to which he was subject when travelling. He carried with him "the pill that will" cure constipation and all its sequent sufferings. This is what he says:

"Travelling on the cars tends to constipation with me, but by using Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills moderately, my bowels are kept in healthy action. They also prevent headache."—J. J. CONVERSE, St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Ayer's Pills are good for constipation under all circumstances and conditions. They have cured long standing cases after every other medicine had failed. Rev. Francis B. Harlowe, of Atlanta, Ga., furnishes a case in point. He writes;

"For some years past, I was subject to constipation, from which I suffered increasing inconvenience, in spite of the use of medicines of various kinds, until some months ago, when I began taking Dr. J. C. Ayer's Pills. They have entirely corrected the costive habit, and vastly improved my general health."—(REV.) FRANCIS B. HARLOWE, Atlanta, Ga.

Constipation is, perhaps, the most serious physical evil of to-day. It is like the Octopus, that grapples its victim and fastens its tentacles on trunk and limbs one after another, until at last, incapable of longer resistance, the helpless being succumbs to his frightful foe. Constipation is the beginning of many of the most murderous maladies, the clogged system becoming charged with poisons that affect the liver and kidneys, and prostrate the entire being mentally, morally, and physically. Dr. Ayer's Pills will cure constipation. If you doubt it send for Dr. Ayer's Curebook, free, containing the testimony of those cured by this remedy. Address J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

LIEUT. HOBSON'S OWN STORY!

Hero of Merrimac Tells How He Sailed Through Thunderbolts.

IT IS A THRILLING STORY

Shells from Big Guns, Hail of Rifle Shots and Bursting Submarine Mines Were All Around Them.

HE RECEIVED AN OVATION

OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA July 9—The return of Assistant Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson of Merrimac fame, to his ship, the flagship New York, last night; was marked by wild enthusiasm. It was dark when a shout was passed along the ship that Hobson was coming. On the superstructure clambored the crew, ten deep, and on the quarter deck the officers clustered around the sea ladder and a hundred hands were stretch-out to grasp Hobson's. It was not until he was safe once more on deck that the crew of the New York cheered, and then they broke out into a wild yell which went up over again until the men were hoarse. Numbers of the crew rushed forward on the quarter deck, and a great group of men struggled around the tall figure of the man who had dared so much.

Behind Hobson came Col. John Jacob Astor, and the first thing Hobson tried to do was to introduce him to the officers, but Col. Astor got lost in the crowd which surged around insisting upon shaking Hobson's hand. The transports blew their whistles.

Hobson sat once more among his messmates and told the story of his experience, his marvelous escape and his imprisonment in Morro Castle, watching the shells explode outside his cell under a murderous fire.

"I did not miss the entrance to the harbor," he said, "as ensign Powell in the launch supposed. I headed east until I got my bearings, and then made for it, straight in. Then came the firing. It was, flashing out first from one side of the harbor and then the other from those big guns on the hills, the Vizcaya lying inside the harbor joining in.

"Troops from Santiago had rushed down when the news of the Merrimac's coming was telegraphed, and soldiers lined the foot of the cliffs, firing wildly across and killing each other with the cross fire. The Merrimac's steering gear broke as she got to Estrella Point. Only three of the torpedoes on her side exploded when I touched the button. A huge submarine mine caught her full amidships, hurling the water high in the air and tearing a great vent in the Merrimac's side.

"Her stern ran upon Estrella Point. Chiefly owing to the work done by the mine she began to sink slowly. At that time she was across the channel, but before she settled the tide drifted her around. We were all aft, lying on the deck. Shells and bullets whistled around. Six-inch shells from the Vizcaya came tearing into the Merrimac, crashing into wood and iron and passing clear through, while the plunging shots from the fort broke through her decks.

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, July 8—After Hobson and the seven seamen who with him sailed the Merrimac into Santiago harbor had been formally exchanged to-day, and as they approached the first line of American entrenchments occupied by the Rough Riders, low murmurs ran from one end of the line of cowboys and eastern athletes to the other, and by the time the party reached them every man was on his feet, refusing to be restrained by the admonishing of the officers, cheering wildly and rushing over every obstacle that chanced to be in their way in their efforts to reach Hobson and his party and grasp them by the hand. The released prisoners were soon surrounded and compelled to stop to receive the greetings, congratulations and vigorous, heartfelt handshaking of men they had never seen before.

Sunburned cavalry who had spent their lives in the saddle, on the plains of Arizona, New Mexico or other western states or territories, and who did not know the difference between a ship's maintop, bilge or keep, threw their arms around the sailors boys and literally dragged them over the entrenchment, all the time sending out yells that under other circumstances would have struck terror to hearts even as gallant as those of the Merrimac heroes.

No mountain fastness of the west ever resounded with shouts from an Indian war dance that equalled the wild outbreak of American spirits that occured at this meeting of sailors, who did their duty with every Spanish gun in the harbor trained upon them, and the hardy men who, from the day of their arrival on the island of Cuba, have fought their way over the bodies of their own dead and wounded to the very gates of the city that they will gladly storm again when ordered to do so.

The Seventy-first New York volunteers, near the Rough Riders, was the next regiment to fall upon Hobson and his men, and almost immediately the Ninth and Tenth cavalry, both colored regiments, joined in the general enthusiasm, and cheer after cheer arose as Hobson and his companions forced their way through the lines of white and colored soldiers.

Hobson, so far as possible, grasped each hand extended towards him, and neither he or his men made any protest against the uncomfortable crowding and jostling which they had to undergo.

If the young officer, whose home is in Alabama, has any race, he certainly forgot all about as he passed through the lines of soldiers on his way to General Wheeler's headquarters. He saw it was the uniform of the United States army and he cared not for the color of its wearers, grasping the hands of the ebony hued troopers of the Ninth and Tenth cavalry and expressing his thanks for their patriotic welcome with as much heartiness as he displayed towards men of his own race. He and all of his men were completely overcome by the reception accorded them and tears rolled down their cheeks as the soldiers crowded around them.

News From The Front.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The following cablegram was received today by Stephen Barton from Miss Clara Barton:

SIBONEY, July 6, via PLAYA DEL ESTE.—Came from Shafter's front in the night for food and clothing for refugees, who are leaving Santiago by the thousands, starving and naked. The state of Texas has gone to Port Antonio for ice to save her meat; will return tomorrow. Are sending supplies to refugees, all we can from both camps, by army wagons and pack mules. It is nearly impossible to land supplies; high tide; no docks; surf terrific; our ship yawls cannot stand in the water. Have mended one old broken flat boat which our men drag ashore in the surf waist deep. No transportation. Hose and packers' tent would be helpful. Wounded men taken from our operating tables are laid on the ground often without blankets or shelter from rain or sun. As others die their clothing is taken to put on the naked to get them down to Siboney, ten miles over roads that upset army wagons. Mrs. Gardner, myself and the whole force of the Red Cross at the front are in direct range of the sharp shooters. Lesser and the nurses are doing splendid work at Siboney. The men are brave as lions. Shafter is acting wisely and humanly, doing all we can. We return to the front at once.

(Signed) Clara Barton.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Nervousness, sleeplessness and pain harness her and life seems hardly worth the living.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favorite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood.

The Feeling a Lawyer Outgrew.

"When I was new to the business and had a beautiful faith in the efficacy of our jury system," tells a veteran of the Detroit bar, "I was employed to defend a burglar. The fellow was guilty enough, and that, my youthful mind, was sufficient to insure his conviction. He had wealthy friends who retained me, and I worked with the greatest zeal until satisfied that the man had done the crime of which he was accused. Then I went to him and said that his wisest course would be to plead guilty. I would make a strong talk for him and then appeal to the mercy of the court.

"'Young man,' he said, looking me over scornfully from head to foot, 'you've been hired to defend me, and then ask me to save you all the work and trouble by pleading guilty. Now, you get right out of here,' as he rattled the grating to call the jailor, 'and if you don't put up the hottest kind of a fight I'll announce right out in open court that you weakened and wanted to get your money without earning it.'"

"Did you let him bluff you that way?"

"Oh, yes, I humored him and tried the case."

"Got a life sentence, I presume?"

"No; the jury acquitted him."

An Up-to-Date Parrot.

"We have a parrot in our house which is right up to date in its conversation," said a resident of Camp street. "Further than that, it is second to none in the matter of patriotism and is not at all backward in giving expression to its sentiments, which are American to the core. This intelligent bird sings almost perfectly the first verse of 'The Star Spangled Banner.' The people in the house have been nearly a year teaching it to sing this patriotic song, but the result attained is entirely satisfactory, as the parrot not only reproduces the air and words distinctly, but renders them so emphatically as to leave little doubt that its able tutors have imbued the bird with the spirit of the air as well as teaching it the words. The parrot also gives vent at intervals to the expression, 'Hurrah for Cuba,' together with a few remarks not entirely complimentary to our opponents in the present war.—New Orleans Picayune.

There is one little maxim
That now I will name,
Which may bring what is better
Than riches or fame.
All those who will heed it
Good appetite find,
Strong nerves, rosy cheeks,
And vigor of mind.
It will banish dyspepsia,
Rheumatics and gout,
That Tired Feeling conquer.
Drive scrofula out.
And here is the maxim—
Its wisdom is sure—
Take Hood's Sarsaparilla
And keep your blood pure.

Beware of Range Peddlers.

An exchange gives farmers and others the following good advice: "Don't sign any papers without reading them carefully. Don't sign any notes or contracts to buy a steel range from a peddler until you have had a 30 days' trial of the range. Then you can sign if you want to. Don't let the peddler break up your old range. You may need it later. TENDERLY LAID TO REST.

All that Was Mortal of Frank H. Taylor Consigned to the Tomb.

AT 6:00 O'CLOCK SUNDAY EVENING

Solemn and Impressive Services in the Presbyterian Church, Conducted by Dr. Wm. Laurie and Judge James A. Beaver—Band, Fire Companies and Ex-Members of Co. B in Attendance

A GREAT TRIBUTE OF RESPECT

Bellefonte today mourns the first death of one of the valiant boys gone to the front in the person of Franklyn Henry Taylor, chief bugler of the Fifth regiment, who died early Thursday morning in the division hospital at Chickamauga, Ga., from typhoid fever. His death was the first to occur among the two hundred and more soldiers who have gone out from Centre county since the war broke out. This sad demise has cast a gloom all over this place, as he was one of the most popular young men of the town and his funeral was made the most imposing since that of Andrew Gregg Curtin, the "old war governor."

The young man was stricken about two weeks ago, and, continuing to grow worse, on July 4th his brother, Samuel Taylor, formerly sergeant in Company B, went south to take care of him, but the young soldier was past all aid and his death came as stated above.

This death seems to us a particularly sad one; young and in the best of health he went forth only a few weeks ago to do what he could for the country he loved. Today he lies silent in death. Every heart in this town cannot help but be touched for "none knew him but to love him, nor named him but to praise." How many of us remember the sad parting with Company B, and we can see Frank standing on the rear platform sounding the "reveille." Alas, he has sounded it for the last time but we have the consolation of knowing that he died at his post of duty ready as long as health was given him to perform his duties faithfully and well.

Frank Taylor, was a son of William Henry Taylor, of this place. He was born in Clarion, Clarion county, May 31st. 1876, and was aged 22 years, 1 month, and 7 days. Deceased was a painter by trade and joined Company B about six years ago as a musician. When the company went to the front he was tendered the position of chief bugler for the division, but preferring to be with his own company he accepted the post of chief bugler for the Fifth regiment instead. *H*is father and mother and the following three brothers and one sister survive him, namely, Charles J. Taylor, 2nd lieutenant of Company B; Miss May Taylor, Samuel and Reynolds Taylor, all of this place.

The heartfelt sympathy of the whole community goes out to this grief-stricken family in this hour of dire affliction, and they are bidden to look to Him for comfort, who doeth all things well and in his own good way can bring them peace.

The remains arrived in Bellefonte on the 9:32 train Saturday morning and were taken at once to his father's home on Bishop street.

Before leaving Chickamauga funeral services were held. An unusual mark of respect was shown by the fact that his death was recognized at division headquarters. The following account of the services is taken from the Philadelphia Public Ledger of Friday:

"There was general sorrow in the camp of the Fifth Pennsylvania on Thursday on account of the death of Chief Bugler Frank H. Taylor, of typhoid fever, in the division hospital. The deceased was a brother of Lieutenant Charles Taylor, Company B, and was a very popular young man. Samuel S. Taylor, a brother of the deceased, who was formerly a sergeant in Company B, arrived here from his home at Bellefonte prior to his death. The funeral took place in camp at 11:30 Thursday morning and was conducted by Chaplain Clemans, of the Twelfth Minnesota. The regiment paraded in front of the regimental headquarters. The remains of young Taylor were shipped from Chattanooga Thursday night" and were interred at this place Sunday evening.

Just as the twilight shadows were lengthening towards the west on a lovely Sabbath evening, all that was mortal of that brave young soldier boy, Frank Henry Taylor, was tenderly laid to rest in the beautiful Union cemetery at this place. He had sacrificed his young life in a holy cause, that of country, just as surely as if an enemy's bullet had stricken him down, and hundreds of his friends, neighbors and comrades from far and near gathered to pay a last tribute of love and respect to this brave, kind hearted young man.

Not only was Frank Taylor loved for his fidelity to country, but he was popular with every one; a member of the Undine fire company and for several years leader of the Undine band, it was natural for him to have many friends who were deeply touched by his untimely end.

The funeral services were held at 6:00 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, but long before that hour the big edifice was crowded with people. The funeral cortege started from the residence of the young man's father, W. H. Taylor, on Bishop street. In the procession, besides carriages containing relatives, were the Undine band, Logan Fire company, Undine Fire company and ex-members of Company B under command of Capt. Amos Mullen.

At the church solemn and affecting services were held, conducted by Rev. Dr. Wm. Laurie, assisted by Judge James A. Beaver. As an opening piece "Abide With Me," was sweetly sung, when Dr. Laurie offered an earnest prayer, after which the choir rendered "Asleep in Jesus."

Dr. Laurie took for his text the 19th and 20th verses of the 10th chapter of Jeremiah: "Woe is me for my hurt; my wound is grievous but I said truly this is grief and I must bear it. My tabernacle is spoiled and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me and are not, there is none to stretch forth my tent and set up my curtains." The reverend gentleman spoke words of loving sympathy to the bereaved father and mother, brothers and sister, and paid a high tribute to the young man. He also drew a lesson for the young men present, for he said you know not the time when God shall call you, and all should therefore have Christ in their hearts and be prepared to meet whatever is in store for you manfully and well.

The choir then sang "Nearer My God to Thee," after which *G*eneral Beaver made an earnest address. He spoke very feelingly of the young man about to be laid in the tomb, and referred to the great difference between the bravery displayed by those who risked life at the front for humanity, and those who risked life on the Klondyke for gain. He then recalled the fact that just thirty-six years ago, on just such a Sabbath, as the evening shadows were gathering, they laid away in a lonely grave in North Carolina the first member of Company B to die in the Civil war.

This closed the services, and after the benediction by Dr. Laurie the funeral cortege reformed and proceeded to the Union cemetery, where the interment was made. At the grave the Undine band played the favorite piece of the deceased, the sacred overture, "Joy to the World," and just as the lowering shades of night were gathering closer and closer around the throng surrounding the tomb of the dead the stillness of the Sabbath evening was broken by three sharp volleys of musketry, and then "taps" was sounded, which told the story of the first death and burial of a Centre countian in the war with Spain.

There were many beautiful floral tributes received; among the number were the following: A large bugle, the gift of Col. Theodore Burchfield and members of the 5th Regiment; trumpet with the word "Undine" on from the Undine band and fire company; fireman's hat from Logan fire company; flag from ex-members of Company B.

The firing squad was under charge of Sergeant Frank Williams. They were Claude Smith, Wm. Rider, James Noonen, Henry Kline, Harry Eberhart, Harry Williams, Wallace Markle and Wireman Noll.

The honorary pall-bearers from the Undine fire company were Messrs. Edward Brown, John Houser, Jacob Knisely and Thomas Howley.

The carriers were Rash Williams, Boyd Musser, F. H. Cota, Newlin Irwin, Morris Trone, Joseph Beck, John J. McMurray and Harry Showers.

The name, address, and command with rank of every soldier and sailor of Centre County now engaged in the War with Spain.

It is of the utmost importance to the families of such soldiers and sailors to furnish such information. A complete record will be made and preserved by the Bellefonte Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which in the future will be found exceedingly valuable.

He has been employed in a drug store in Philadelphia for the past few months. *H*e joined the United States signal service and is now at Washington drilling. The young man has the right stuff in him for a good soldier, and will make a fine appearance in uniform.

Lost on the La Bourgogne.

From a letter to Mrs. John P. Harris from Clara M. Kapp, we learn that Miss Edith Patton, daughter of the late Samuel Patton who at one time resided at Potter's Mills this county, and was well known here, was lost on the La Bourgogne which lately sunk from a collision off the coast of New Brunswick. Miss Edith will be remembered as having frequently visited in this place with her cousin Miss Kapp.

Want More Woodsmen.

Recruiting officers are now at Williamsport, who will enlist twenty-five skilled woodsmen. *O*ne of the officers will go to North Bend and will interview men in the woods with the view of getting the best. The men wanted must be woodsmen and rivermen. Their physical condition must be perfect

Huckleberry Shipments.

The shipments of huckleberries this season are not so heavy as in former years says the express agents. This is because the berries are slow in ripening, but as soon as they begin to ripen rapidly it is expected that the shipments will exceed those of last year. The amount the government will derive from this source will be quite large, as each basket shipped must contain a revenue stamp.

The Bayard Family.

The Bayard family of this town is not only a noted family in civil life, but also in military conflicts, some of them and their ancestors having been engaged in every war of this country, from that of the Revolution to the present conflict with Spain, and it is with feelings of pride that we learn of the appointment of Roger T. Bayard, youngest son of Colonel George A. Bayard, who enlisted as a private in Company B, and has been appointed by General Brooke to his staff at Camp Thomas, Georgia. General Brooke and Colonel Bayard were comrades in the Civil war, and upon learning that young Bayard was a son of his old friend General Brooke sought him out and conferred upon him the honor of becoming a member of his staff. Young Bayard's friends here are all delighted with his appointment and predict that higher promotion awaits him, if the war lasts much longer, as he is not only intelligent, but a "hustler from away back."

The Bayard family as soldiers in the military history of this country stand pre-eminent. Colonel John Bayard served as colonel under Gen. Washington in the war for independence. The grandfather of Roger served as surgeon under Gen. Taylor at Fort Harrison in 1812, when the Indians had surrounded it and set fire to the block house in which was located the magazine, and was one of three who volunteered to put out the fire. In doing so he was severely wounded in the hip and groin, but succeeded in saving the magazine.

Roger's father, Col. *G*eorge A. Bayard, of this place, enlisted as a private in Company H, 2d Penna. Vol., and afterwards was promoted to 2d Lieutenant of Company H, 148th P. V., and was in every engagement it was until the 22d of June, 1864, when he was taken prisoner and held for nine months. He was then exchanged and served to the end of the war of the rebellion; in the meantime he had been commissioned colonel of his regiment.

Col. Bayard's brother John enlisted as a private in the Mexican war and was commissioned a lieutenant by Secretary Buchanan, and was killed at Gettysburg. His cousin, *G*eorge D. Bayard, was a general of cavalry and was killed at Fredericksburg.

We doubt if any other family in the country has a better military record than the Bayard family of Bellefonte.

The Methodist congregation of this place will hold their Children's Day services Sunday evening, July 17th. The service to be rendered is entitled "Pictures of Heroic Methodism." It will be interspersed with music and recitations and will be of an interesting character. A general invitation is extended to everyone to be present on this occasion.
